Opis produktu

Originally released in 2002, We’re Going to Hell for This is a compilation of rarities featuring unreleased material spanning 1992-2001.

The collection also includes live tracks, demo tracks, and cover versions of classics by the likes of Darkthrone, Discharge and Venom.

The live tracks featured here were recorded in Switzerland and also at the famous Inferno festival in Norway and contain an excellent selection of Carpathian live carnage.

Carpathian Forest from Norway formed in 1990, and began their recording career with the cult demo Bloodlust & Perversion in 1992 as the "second wave of black metal" was started to rise to prominence. Throughout the following three decades Carpathian Forest has successfully forged a legacy spanning a multitude of revered studio albums, whilst being renowned as a fierce, if unpredictable, live act. The band features mainman Nattefrost, who enjoyed a successful solo career, alongside his main band. Tchort also features on bass, a familiar name from his previous work with Emperor’s debut album and more diverse acts such as Green Carnation.
