Opis produktu

The advent of Akatechism began with the demo 'Dripping Flames'.

It was recorded during the dying moments of MMXIV and is directed at all those who share the same fire and herald the breath of death.

By being both eclectic and conservative in its means and ways akatechism is a testimony to the inherent antitheses in the history of man.

This catechism obviously does not contain lectures from above, but is dedicated to the wisdoms from the abyss below. It gives in to the most primal hunger for darkness and the un-graspable but fundamental ways of decay. „dripping flames“ is the first invitation to revel in the asymmetry of man.
