Opis produktu

Diehard electric blue with white splattering limited to 150 copies.

2nd pressing with different color (light blue) on the LP jacket and poster. 35 year anniversary deluxe edition, complete collection of the band's early recordings (1989) most of which appear for the first time on vinyl:
- "The day man lost..." Demotape
- "The day man lost..." rough mixes / out takes
- "Infestation of evil" Demotape
- Live in Stockholm 4.11.1989 (two different takes, including the entire Distorted Harmony EP + bonus tracks)
The gore-soaked roots of these Swedish Death Metal pioneers, seeing them shift from grinding, early Carcass-inspired extremity to the crushing Svensk Dödsmetall approach that led to the iconic full length "Dark recollections", an absolute milestone in the genre. Mastered from the best existing sound sources under constant supervision of Michael Amott. Cover artwork by Jeff Walker (CARCASS). Includes a A2 poster and 20-page booklet with extensive liner notes by Michael Amott, rare (or never before seen) photos and flyers provided by the band and by the Swedish Death Metal specialist Nicola Costantini!
