Opis produktu

Devoid Of Thought has been on a relentless rise for years now. The Italian band released their debut album Outer World Graves in 2021 via Everlasting Spew Records to great, worldwide acclaim. Following that album, the death metal quartet embarked on three different international tours, most notably playing across Europe with Artificial Brain, playing Brutal Assault and opening for Beherit in their only Italian appearance ever.

Now, the wait is almost over, as the works for Devoid Of Thought’s long-awaited sophomore record are almost completed. Yet, not many know that the band’s history goes way back. Devoid Of Thought has been active for almost ten years, and Necrotic Surface Discarded is proof of such history, finally giving due light to a number of death metal spells compiled in different time spans and never properly released.
