Opis produktu

2014 marks the ten year anniversary of New Zealand's Diocletian, and the advent of their most barbaric and ferocious release to date, ‘Gesundrian'. Drawing inspiration from early masterpieces by the likes of Voivod and Morbid Angel, ‘Gesundrian' is a development on Diocletian's trademark unrelenting steamroller approach with the barbed aggression not heard since their earliest works. It is a reflection of continual transformation and balance between order and chaos, themes which have pervaded Diocletian's music, aesthetics and philosophy since the very beginning.

As with every recording prior, the album is completely self-produced and was engineered by drummer C. Sinclair, overseen by founding member B. Southwell. ‘Gesundrian' also heralds the return of original vocalist and founding member L. Muir and the full-length debut of long-time guitarist J. Baldwin. It is the representation of a group of individuals who are constantly evolving, while remaining true to their primitive and barbaric roots.

Reprint, 500x bone with oxblood marble 12", gatefold cover, full-color printed on 350g carton with UV spot lacquer, all assembled in a PVC overbag.
