Opis produktu

The final part of the «Night»-trilogy.

From the words of the band:

Natt til ende is the last and final conclusion in the trilogy about the "night". This last chapter is my manifest of the final ending of christianity and death of "Jesus", in both physical and mental shape. Naturally this also lifts the idea and concept of forces christianity calls evil. The same forces I would call natural and human. They may be described as in a dream or in a more harsh speech.

The idea that "god" lives on in, and through man, is to me repulsive, and this trilogy, and then this album is my perspective on how I see this should come to an end.

This is black metal, this is the end of all false hope and "light". To a new bright beginning!
