Rampaging into their 25th year as purveyors of the most ruthless extreme metal, Goatwhore return with perhaps the strongest album of their storied career. 'Angels Hung from the Arches of Heaven' is 47 minutes of their trademark blend of death, black, thrash and sludge metal delivered with breathless intensity and an unrepentant bloodlust, making for one of the most thrilling records to come out of 2022. "I would describe this record as being very raw, but clarity is shaped within the chaos," states vocalist Louis Ben Falgoust II. "It's a journey of everything we have done and some new approaches as we advance forward. When we write we mainly focus on the music and what we enjoy about playing it. We don't write just to appease others, we want to enjoy playing it in a live setting as well, especially night after night on the road."
