Opis produktu

The 80s had just come to an end when Hexenhaus, one of Sweden’s best kept thrash metal secrets, once again entered the studio to record their second album "The Edge Of Eternity", released in 1990. "At that time I was heavily into the German technical thrash metal band Mekong Delta. By phasing together what they did with my already deep admiration for bands like Megadeth and Exodus gave us a pretty unique approach", says their most prominent member Mike Wead (King Diamond a.o.). Now the album is re-released on CD, limited colored vinyl and digitally. The physical products also come with new liner-notes, rare fotos and an exclusive history text. All formats got remastered by Ronnie Björnström (Mezzrow a.o.).
