One-off edition of 300 copies: a special "10th anniversary" repress for Mesarthim's classic debut 'Isolate':
Disc 1 Transparent blue with milky clear and Disc 2 Galaxy transparent red + yellow

Isolate was a pioneering release, not only because of its fresh approach to outer space, but most importantly because of its genre-bending, never-seen-before mix of black metal and electronics. Very few bands tried what Mesarthim did, mixing metal and electronic beats (late Samael and few others come to mind), and even fewer managed to create an organic production for so many years.

To celebrate the first decade of such an important album, Avantgarde Music proudly presents a double-vinyl special edition aptly named Isolate X, which not only includes the original Isolate, but adds a second LP with reworks and reinterpretations from both fellow Avantgarde Music cosmic artists and friends of Mesarthim alike.

Isolate X includes contributions from Mike Lamb and Heike Langhans' Remina, the newborn Italian black metal band Bianca (featuring members from Hideous Divinity), Australian solo projects Midnight Odyssey and Germ, and the rising cosmic force from Sweden Vrazorth.

With a wonderful handpainting by Heinke Langhans which reimagines the original NASA photo of the Horsehead Nebula, Isolate X is a perfect change to rediscover Mesarthim's debut from an unexpected perspective, or experience it for the first time.
