Australia's SARCOPHAGUM will release their debut full-length, "The Grand Arc of Madness", on December 6th 2024 through Nuclear Winter Records.

SARCOPHAGUM spawned to life in the early half of 2021, during the time of the plague as a new project featuring Golgothan Remains members past and present. The purpose being to provide a channel to explore new ideas and sounds in a studio-only setting. The dark death metal realm remains the primary influence and a debut EP, "Conduits to the Underworld", was released in 2022 through Nuclear Winter Records, followed swiftly by a stand alone single, "This Wrought Creation". Now their full length debut is here, "The Grand Arc of Madness". Poised to unleash a soundscape of disharmony and terror over the listener, the angular horror awaits...

Both a culmination of their already characteristic aesthetic and a whole new twist upon it, "The Grand Arc of Madness" sees SARCOPHAGUM fusing clanging angularity with haunting atmospherics, chaos with eerie melodicism, epic narrative with primal crush.
