ABOUT OFFER THY FLESH TO THE WORMS:
The music of OFFER THY FLESH TO THE WORMS was recorded between early 2008 and late 2010. It resembles recordings made for various projects and musical experiments I did with various people. Then in 2010 I got the idea to use all these takes and unfinished tracks and make it a SOL album.
I then spend a couple of moths rearranging and reproducing the album and fitting all the instruments into new compositions. Some songs are 100% old material revisited (such as the fifth track). Some songs are pure new recordings (such as the third track) and the rest is a mix of both.
OFFER THY FLESH TO THE WORMS is an acoustic drone album (with the exception of electric guitar on the forth track) and it's an experiment to create the atmosphere in SOL via acoustic instruments. It has been a great challenge to use the particular instruments and to get them to work together. And when that is said I want to extend my gratitude to all of those involved in the recording, the making, and the releasing of this album.
Emil Brahe, SOL, March 1st 2011.
