Opis produktu

With Eon of Obscurity, Texas brutal death metal squad STABBING takes it to new levels of sonic vulgarity, replete with unexpected moments of twisted technicality and sense-decimating power. The foursome's Century Media debut out-slams, out-blasts and utterly eviscerates the competition; vocalist Bridget Lynch takes her spot as one of the genre's most powerful and distinct voices with tracks like "Inhuman Torture Chamber" while giving past tour mate, Suffocation's Ricky Meyer, a run for his money on the track "Nauseating Composition". Having carved their name into the underground, touring with the likes of Sanguisugabogg, and 200 Stab Wounds (amongst others) and delivering landmark performances at Maryland Deathfest and Milwaukee Metalfest, STABBING breaks brutality to a new standard - stepping up their game without one hint of compromise.
